

Hikes Around Kabala

Among my photos from my time in Sierra Leone was a folder with photos of two short local hikes. On the first hike were Gracie, me and a Peace Corps friend from another town. I wasn't able to remember or recognize her. On the other were Gracie, me, my roommate, Gary Walker, and Connie Freeman, who was in Kabala visiting Gary.

On the first hike we climbed the rocky hills on the north of Kabala. This provided good views of the town and some rock scrambling.

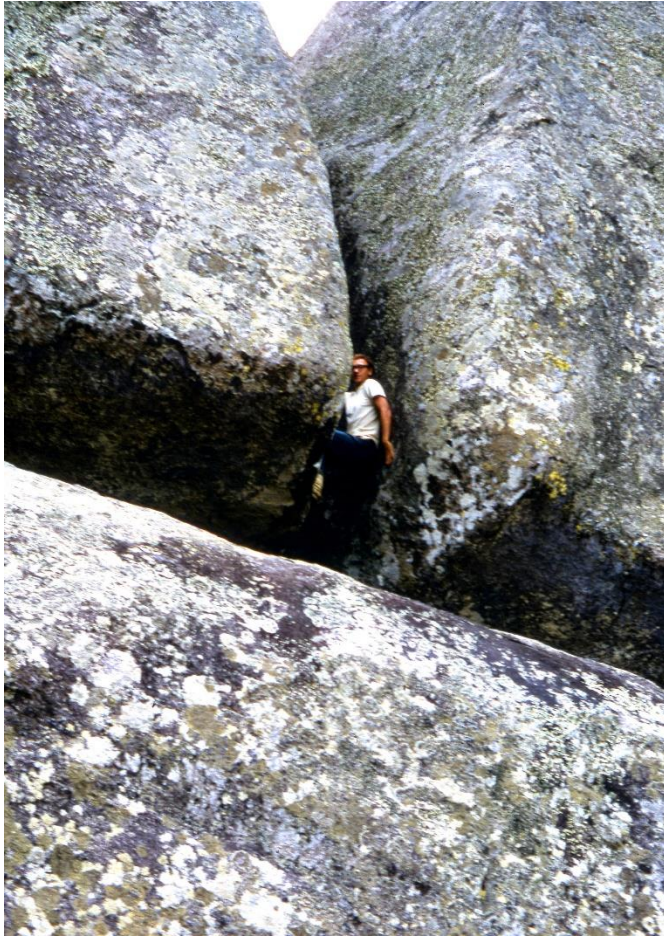

This is the second hike, no rock climbing here.
